Caroline Liles Named By Artists As Loveliest Of the Campus Beauties

Caroline Liles, of Brewton, has been selected by John Held, Jr., and Lamar Dodd, artists from the University of Georgia, as the number one beauty on the campus.

Second most beautiful is Mildred Mayo, of Bay Minette, with Marian Hughes, Gadsden, third, and Marguerite Haisten, Selma, fourth.

Choices of the beauties were made by the two artists from photographs made of the sixteen college beauties selected by them in Elite Night, October 17. These girls were named from the fifteen candidates of each class because they were considered most representative of the campus beauty. Personality as well as facial attractiveness entered into the qualifications.

The four students will be featured as the loveliest girls in the 1941 Technala, college yearbook, according to Evelyne Mayhall, editor.

Lamar Dodd is head of the art department at the University of Georgia and John Held, Jr., serves as resident artist at the same school. They were invited by the staff of the Technala which sponsors Elite Night each year in order to discover the outstanding students and beauties on the campus.

Sinking Of Ship Brings War Nearer

Destruction by a mysterious explosion of the French refugee ship, S. S. Patria, in the harbor of Haifa, Palestine, aroused memories for Dr. Fred B. Pearson and Miss Rosa Lee Wells, which serve to bring the war "close to home."

In 1923 Dr. and Mrs. Pearson were passengers on the Patria from New York to Joffa, Palestine, where they went to engage in missionary work. Their son, Fred, Jr., was born while they were in Palestine.

Later in 1934 Dr. Pearson conducted a tourist party to Egypt, when the trip was again made on the Patria. Miss Rosa Lee Wells was a member of this party.

Two Local Men Selected By Board

Emmett O'Neal Threatt and Sam Edward Tatum have been selected by Local Board No. 2, at Montevallo, for induction into the army of the United States.

These men, the first to be selected and inducted by the local board under the peace-time conscription law, have been ordered to report to the board December 6, whereupon they will be sent to Fort McClellan, Anniston.

In case one of the above named men may not be accepted at the induction camp, Rufus Franklin Herron will be required to go as a replacement.

Vocational Service Studies Women Workers Of State

In order to extend the usefulness of its Vocational Advisory Service for the women of Alabama, Alabama College this week released the findings of its survey of women employees who are at work in the state's industrial establishments. Miss Rochelle Rodd Gachet, director of the Vocational Advisory Service, supervised this survey, made in conjunction with the class in "Contemporary Problems" of the sociology department.

"Knowledge as to the present facts regarding the employment of women in Alabama is fundamental in planning the work of the Vocational Advisory Service," Miss Gachet stated, in making public the results of this elaborate inquiry. Since little data on a state-wide basis bearing on the woman worker were available, this study fills an important gap in the study of Alabama working conditions.

In the course of the study 1,554 Alabama firms were contacted. This contact work was spread over the months of April, May, and June, 1940. It was found that 54 of the industrial concerns employing more than 50 women are scattered over 27 counties. The types of work performed by Alabama women can be roughly grouped under seven headings: Supervisors, stenographers, professional workers, bookkeepers, clerks, operatives, and miscellaneous. It was interesting to those making the study to find that in Alabama industries, women listed as professional workers included: 9 artists; 4 librarians; 29 nurses; 17 home economists; 16 home lighting representatives; as well as a scattering of medical technicians, statisticians and assistants in ceramic work.

Besides the textual material the study also has eight detailed tables of information in which the findings are carefully summarized.

According to Miss Gachet, the fine response by industrial firms to the requests for information indicates that Alabama industries have a fair-minded attitude toward the employment of women. It is apparent from the study that positions of importance can be obtained by women in Alabama industrial concerns.

He Disagrees Sharply With Statements By Shelby County Democrat

The following is a copy of a letter made public by Dr. J. A. Hines Monday, which he submitted to the Shelby County Democrat. It is a spirited reply to and criticism of the statements made by The Democrat last week in reference to Congressman Pete Jarman's decision to remain in Congress rather than resign to take a year's military training.

Dr. Hines requests The Times to publish his letter to the Democrat.

My dear Mrs. Wallace:

I cannot sit idly by and permit such an uncalled for and incorrect reflection on the well known patriotism of our outstanding Congressman as the one in which you indulged in your last issue to go unanswered. Consequently, I shall greatly appreciate your publishing with the same prominence you gave it this reply to your unwarranted attack on Congressman Jarman, a battle scarred hero of the World War, a patriotic citizen and an exceptionally able Congressman.

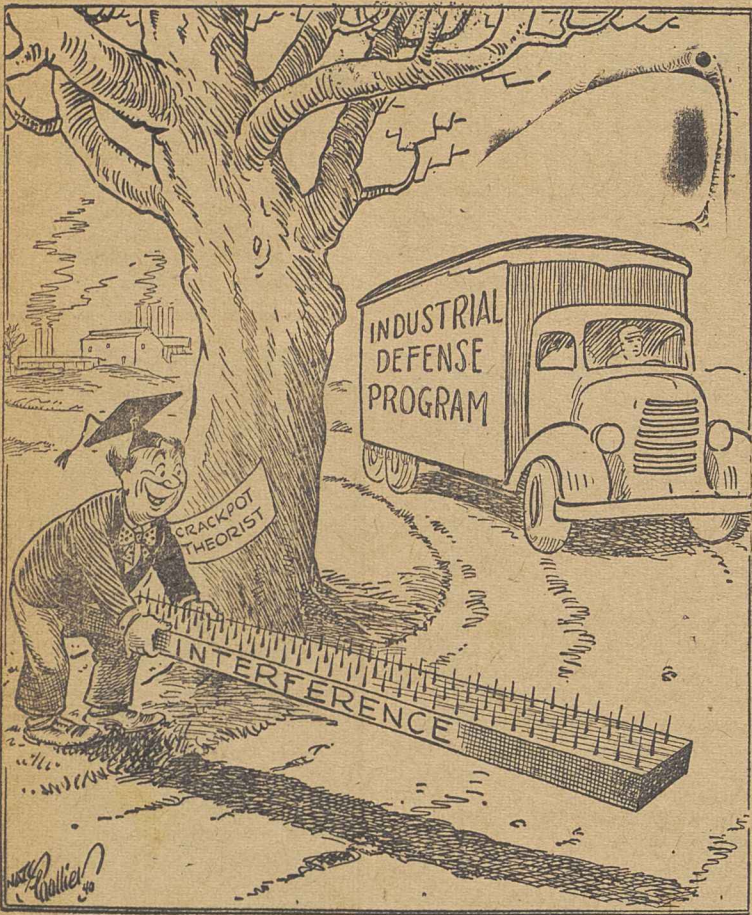

You refer to the three Alabama officers concerned, Congressmen Jarman and Starnes and Lieutenant - Governor Carmichael, and speak of "personal ambition and patriotic sacrifice," without comparing the war records of the these three esteemed gentlemen. You do not state that Congressman Jarman led his men through the Argonne Forest and across the Hindenburg line and that he bears the wounds of battle; whereas, without any reflection on them whatever, neither of the other gentlemen saw action. Nor do you state that his comrades recognized his leadership and heroism by electing him state commander of the American Legion to which he responded by making one of the best commanders this organization ever had.

You speak of the Lieutenant-Governor having answered "Ready" without mentioning the fact that his duties as Lieutenant-Governor are concluded unless the Governor calls a special session which he has emphatically expressed the intention not to do.

You refer to Congressman Starnes accepting part time military service "as required"; whereas, you can find nothing in the law either requiring or authorizing "part time military service," and I have gained from the press the impression that he will spend a few weeks observing (Continued on back page)

UP TO HIS OLD TRICKS

Two Bars On The Cross

The double-barred cross is strikingly symbolical of the anti-tuberculosis crusade in this country. As clearly defined as the two bars on the cross are the two main principles of tuberculosis control.

These two principles can be stated in a few words. First, find the person who has tuberculosis. Second, prevent the spread of the disease to others.

Two such short statements are easy to make. But putting those statements into effect is not easy. However, we know what to do. We know how to do it. But actually doing it is the perpetual problem.

The first principle—find the person who has the disease—is not a matter of diagnosing who looks sick. Tuberculosis, an insidious scourge, hides behind apparently healthy looks for months and does its destructive work. Finally, of course, symptoms appear, and the victim is forced to seek medical help. By that time, though, the disease is entrenched in the body. The time to find tuberculosis is before symptoms appear.

Early tuberculosis can be cured. The earlier it is found, the easier and quicker it is to cure. Advanced tuberculosis is difficult to cure and requires expensive years of inactivity and treatment. The X-ray will find tuberculosis in time to cure it.

The second principle—prevent the spread of the disease to others—is also far easier to say than to accomplish. During the months when tuberculosis is entrenching itself in the body unknown to the victim, the disease is spreading to others. Early diagnosis is imperative if we are to check the spread of the disease. Hence, the two principles become part of the same thing, as do the two bars become part of the cross.

The two principles are far-reaching. Thus, we can see the extent of the fight facing the National Tuberculosis Association and its more than 1,600 affiliated associations throughout the country. Our Christmas seal dollars are the sole support of the fight that is being waged for us—to save our lives.

When we buy Christmas seals we are not "giving" our money to help anyone else. We might as well face that fact. Our Christmas seal dollars are not given to charity. They are money invested in our own health. Tuberculosis is a highly infectious disease. Thousands and thousands of persons have the disease and do not know it. No one is safe until all are safe from tuberculosis.

Boys Life week

America has magazines by the thousands. They are published to meet thousands of different interests. They are designed to appeal to persons of varied educational backgrounds and of varied economic status. Some have truly become an integral part of the American way of life and have made noteworthy contributions to the progress of the nation.

One such magazine, enjoying a circulation of over 300,000 copies per month, is Boy's Life. It is owned by the Boy Scouts of America which has been publishing it since July, 1912, as a non-commercial enterprise. Its sole aim is to furnish boys, Scouts and non-Scouts alike, wholesome, stimulating, helpful reading material.

Carefully checked surveys have always revealed that the printed word affects the character development of growing boys to a greater degree than anything else, except the influence of the human beings with whom they live.

The Boy Scouts of America, having dealt with over nine million American boys and men in its nearly thirty-one years, knows from first-hand experience, the value of guiding boys into channels bringing them wholesome reading material.

Ever conscious of its responsibility to boyhood, the Scout movement has provided in its very organic structure for reading program committees throughout the nation to assist parents, Scout leaders, teachers and librarians in their efforts to promote reading.

A major activity in this effort is "Boys' Life Week," which the Boy Scouts of America are celebrating locally and nationally from December 1 to 7. It aims to bring together all persons and groups concerned with the reading habits of growing boys, and hopes through the combined efforts of all to help boys get more out of life through a better use of their reading hours.

Cotton And War

Cotton farmers, who will vote December 7 on a marketing quota for their 1941 crop, should give serious consideration to the European war and its effect on cotton, declares Orin Pearson, chairman of the County AAA committee. Quotas will be in effect if approved by two-thirds of the farmers voting.

"Regardless of the outcome of the war," Mr. Pearson said, "cotton farmers face difficulties ahead. If Germany and her allies win, we may be faced with unfavorable trade policies and economic blockades, the effects of which may be even more severe than naval blockades. If Great Britain wins, it will be extremely difficult to carry on normal trade in the markets of the world because a great part of the world's resources and purchasing power will have been dissipated."

Already the war has caused a severe reduction in cotton exports. During the first 3 months of the 1940-41 marketing season, the United States sold less than 300,000 bales abroad, as compared with about 1,750,000 bales during the same period last year. Mr. Pearson attributed a major part of this slump in exports to the disruption of communications, blockades, exchange difficulties, and other factors directly traceable to the war.

Domestic consumption of cotton, he stated, continues at a high level. Estimates are that about 8 million bales, a new record for domestic consumption, will be used in this country in the 1940-41 season. However, Mr. Pearson warned that loss in exports would more than offset the prospective gain in domestic consumption.

"Clearly," Mr. Pearson said, "cotton farmers must use every provision of their farm program to meet this situation. They must work together to keep the supply in line with demand. Only in this way can they hope eventually to solve the problems affecting cotton which have been further aggravated by the war. Considering the situation which confronts cotton farmers, they have need for marketing quotas in 1941 more than ever before."

Survey Is Made Of County Debts

Montgomery, Ala.—Debts of Alabama's 67 counties total approximately $43,945,625, a State Department of Finance compilation has revealed.

The debts are in the form of bonds, warrants and temporary loans. Several counties owe more than the state constitution allows. These debts, however, were made before property values crashed during the depression, departmental officials said.

The compilation, first of its kind in the history of the state, was supervised by Edward Crosland, chief of the local finance division of the State Finance Department.

The object of the report is to improve the credit of counties and increase the market value of county securities, he said. Copies of this report are being sent to securities dealers. Mr. Crosland expects to make a similar report on municipalities soon, he stated.

Only the period up to September 30, 1939, is covered in the compilation. The report does not indicate debts to which only revenues from a particular project are pledged, but it includes temporary loans not usually charged to the constitutional debt limit. This limit represents 3½ per cent of any county's assessed property valuations.

Alumnae Chapter Gives Game Party

The Montevallo alumnae chapter of Alabama College sponsored a game party Friday evening, November 29, in the parlors of the College Union Building, Reynolds Hall. The proceeds of the game party will be devoted to the scholarship fund which the State Alumnae Association of the college is sponsoring.

A group of 160 persons from Montevallo and other nearby cities participated in the evening's fun, when such games as bridge, chess, checkers, and dominoes were played.

The president of the Montevallo alumnae chapter is Mrs. Paul Rogan. Miss Eloise Meroney was general chairman of arrangements for the party.

Committees assisting her were: Sale of tickets, Miss Ethel Harris, chairman; Misses Martha Allen, Hattie Lyman, Charlotte Claybrooke, Maxine Couch, Virginia Evans, Melba Griffin, Mildred Hart, Virginia Hendrick, Waurene Jones, Marion Jones-Williams, Mattie Lee, Christine Beasley, Frances Ribble, Harriette Stripling, Anne Walker, Lillian Worley, Celia Methvin, Birdie Margaret Moorner, Annie Mae Paulk, Ollie Tillman, Eloise Meroney, and Mesdames John Hardy, James Higgins, J. A. Brown, Lula Hawkins Gravlee, R. A. Reid, Laura Wood, Inzer Reid, Paul Rogan, J. T. Bagwell, C. G. Sharp, Robert Holcomb, Charlotte Peterson, Josephine Waller, Eddie Mahaffey, F. P. Givhan, and J. R. Gilbert.

Those on the refreshment committee were: Miss Ollie Tillman, chairman; Misses Charlotte Claybrooke, Martha Allen, Melba Griffin, Lillian Worley, Celia Methvin, Mrs. Lillian Ward, Mrs. J. T. Bagwell, and Mrs. Paul Rogan.

Mrs. Glennie Nybeck was in charge of decorations; and Miss Frances Ribble was in charge of table arrangements.

Mr. W. B. White of Columbiana was a visitor in town Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. L. C. Horn returned to her home Wednesday after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. M. H. Killingsworth, in Montgomery.

Again the call comes to Methodists of Alabama, from 161 children at the Methodist Children's Home at Selma, for sustenance during the coming year. The call must be answered through a "White Christmas" campaign, culminating Sunday, December 22, with what is hoped will be a generous response through the North Alabama and the Alabama Conferences.

Kenneth E. Cooper, of Birmingham, chairman of the board of directors of the home, in an appeal in behalf of the board, points out that this children's home is not supported by any organized charity, and its needs are not represented on any known budget. It must depend on the generosity of Methodists of Alabama.

The "White Christmas" quota for this year from both the conferences jointly is $30,000, an amount barely sufficient to provide the many needs of the 161 children and at the same time provide for much needed improvement of the facilities of the home, and additional room for any little ones "on the waiting list."

Chairman Cooper urges that every Methodist Church school and young people's department arrange a special "White Christmas" observance for the benefit of this home, and that an offering be made by every man, woman and child of the church, to be turned in during these exercises as a part of the respective White Christmas programs. Every Methodist Church should organize now for this effort, says Mr. Cooper.

White Christmas campaign headquarters are now open at 606 First National Building, Birmingham, with Mrs. Olin H. Horton in charge of the office, and suitable programs, plans for events, Christmas plays, and other needed material may be obtained by communicating with her.

Records are Kept On Poultry Farms

Six farm families of Shelby County kept records from November 1, 1939, to November 1, 1940, of expenditures and income from their flocks of laying hens. These were the poultry demonstrators. They found that a small, well cared for flock furnishes an added source of income and that grains produced at home are the cheapest feed.

The poultry demonstrators kept a daily record of egg production and feed costs and at the close of the year's work the four whose complete records are in the county agent's office found the following:

Mrs. G. A. Heaton, Wilsonville, had a total cash income from eggs of $812.37 and spent $371.47 for feed for 300 hens, which left her a profit of $440.90.

Mrs. R. J. Mabry, Dargin, received $844.91 for eggs sold, and spent $338.75 for feed for 170 hens, which left her a profit of $506.15.

The Pierce Garretts, Newala, received a total of $371.79 and spent $212.05 for feed, giving them a profit of $159.54 from 115 hens.

C. F. Walters, Siluria, received $1,217.42 for eggs sold, and spent $926.02 for feed, which gave him a profit of $291.40 from 420 hens.

The home grown feeds were included in the feed costs at market value.

Mrs. Robert Frost was hostess for the Demonstration Club Wednesday afternoon. The house was very tastefully decorated with potted ferns and gay colored leaves. The members were all dressed in the Pilgrim fashion by wearing large white aprons and pilgrim bonnets. The program consisted of articles on Thanksgiving and a discussion of what constitutes a real Thanksgiving. The songs and recreation were in tune with the holiday season.

Mrs. Lockeridge and Mrs. Frost very ably presented the demonstration on meat cooking.

An amusing feature was the grab box, and the pleasant smiles of the grabbers proved they were satisfied with their grab!

Mrs. Frost served the meat from the demonstration with hot biscuits and coffee.

The December meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Lockeridge on the third Wednesday in December.

Plans Complete For Senior Dance

Seniors at Alabama College are completing plans for their dance, which is to be held the evening of December 7.

Scene of the dance this year for the first time is the fun room of their new senior dormitory, Julia Tutwiler Hall, dedicated and occupied only this year.

Chaperones chosen for this event are the senior class faculty advisers, who are Miss Katherine Farrah, associate professor of music; Miss Melba Griffin, associate professor of languages; and Mr. J. H. Henning, associate professor of speech.

This is to be an informal, girl-break dance. The University, Auburn, Birmingham-Southern, Howard, and other nearby institutions are well represented on the date list.

Library Outstanding Project of County

One of the outstanding projects in Shelby County is the county library, recently opened in Columbiana. Since November 18, 2,023 books have been circulated by this library and its eight stations. Shelby station has circulated 116 books, Wilsonville 231, Vincent 406, Maylene 171, Calera 357, Helena 162, and Columbiana 559. The station at Pea Ridge had not reported at the time of this writing.

Other places in the county have asked for libraries. These requests will be granted as soon as WPA workers have been located for the work. The building and the equipment are furnished by the towns in which the libraries are located.

There is still a shortage of books and gifts of any reading material would be greatly appreciated.

Mr. W. B. White of Columbiana was a visitor in town Tuesday afternoon.

High School To Give "Pinafore"

Avast, ahoy, all you landlubbers! A very see-worthy production of "H. M. S. Pinafore" will be presented by the Montevallo High School Glee Clubs in Palmer Auditorium Tuesday evening, December 10, at 8:30 o'clock. Admission is twenty-five cents.

One of the most popular of all Gilbert and Sullivan operettas, "Pinafore" is the story of an English ship and her crew anchored in Portsmouth harbor. "When I Was a Lad" and "I'm Called Little Buttercup" are the most famous songs from this tuneful work.

Miss Elizabeth Utterback and Mrs. Josephine Waller are directing the high school's production of "Pinafore," and principal characters have been chosen from the high school glee clubs as follows: Captain Corcoran, gallant captain of her majesty's ship Pinafore, Grady Parker; his most attractive daughter, Evelyn Ward; Sir Joseph Porter, pompous ruler of the queen's navy, Wayne Villadsen; his admiring cousin Hebe, Julia Ward; Little Buttercup, a seemingly innocent peddler woman who harbors a guilty secret, Mayo Baker; Ralph Rackstraw, handsome and excellent British tar, Louie Busby; Dick Deadeye, as ugly and villainous as his name, Bobby Smith; Bo'sun, Elmer Peebles; and Bob Becket, Tommy Henderson.

The boys' glee club plays the crew of the good ship Pinafore and the girls' glee club plays the admiring throng of Sir Joseph's sisters, cousins, and aunts.

Costumes and scenery are being designed and made by students. Committees have also been appointed to be responsible for finances, publicity, staging and lighting.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Allen and son, Fletcher, of Birmingham, were visitors to town Sunday.

Meeting Industry's Defense Telephone Needs

MANY southern industries are strenuously at work building new plants, expanding existing ones, and generally gearing their facilities and man-power to advance the nation's defense program.

It is a tremendous and urgent job they have taken on. Their rapidly increasing communications needs create an equally important job of service expansion for the Telephone Company, including the engineering and installation of enlarged telephone facilities in many localities.

These industries are going ahead with their production and expansion activities and plans, with confidence that the Telephone Company will meet their telephone needs promptly and fully. Their daily requirements are being provided now, and the thousands of highly trained telephone workers are prepared with materials and experience to meet whatever service demands the future holds.

Western Drama
To Be Presented
By Calera Legion

The Calera post of the American Legion is sponsoring the production of a play by the C. D. C. Players at Calera High School Tuesday night, December 17, at 8 o'clock.

It is Bret Harte's comedy of the west entitled "M'Liss, My Western Miss."

The cast is made up of local people, starring Martha Jones and Rupert Hicks. Other persons playing parts are Delyn Cost, James Howard Pearson, David Lessley, Walter Eason, Louise Johnson, Nora Anderson, Ruth Isbell, and Britain Watters.

Proceeds will go to benefit of the Legion's Christmas fund for children.

Scene of this stirring western drama is Smith's Pocket, a mining village in the Sierras. The entire action takes place in the lobby of the "Roaring Dog Hotel," of which Mrs. Lena Moffitt (Delyn Cost) is the landlady.

Pearson plays the part of a native. Lessley is from the city. Eason is known as "Bummer," the town loafer, and Martha Jones is his daughter. Louise Johnson is from the city. Nora Anderson is the landlady's daughter. Rupert Hicks is the schoolmaster; Ruth Isbell is an actress; and Britain Watters is the "Law," playing the part of Judge McSnaggley.

Everybody is invited to see this interesting performance. It promises to be one of the best shows ever put on by local talent.

FORE APPOINTED CHIEF DEPUTY

Mr. C. H. Fore of Clanton, formerly of Columbiana, was appointed chief deputy sheriff of this county Monday. Mr. Fore was sheriff from 1934 to 1938. His many friends of the county welcome him back.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Hicks and little daughter, Laura Ann, spent Wednesday in Birmingham.

LEGION TURKEYS

Montevallo Post of the American Legion will see that somebody has turkey for Christmas—in fact, three somebodies.

The post has secured three nice gobblers each of which may grace a table for the small sum of a few cents. One of them may be seen in a fancy coop on the streets of Montevallo. Another is in the Ashby neighborhood, and another is at Boothton.

Ask about this plan. The Legion is sponsoring it to raise money to provide Christmas joy for a number of families who otherwise might not have a visit from Santa Claus.

LEGION DANCE AT CALERA

The Calera post of the American Legion is sponsoring a dance at the Legion Hut tonight (Thursday). Admission is 25 cents. The public is cordially invited.

Hines' Letter

troops as a member of Congress rather than on actual active duty. Congressman Jarman very properly feels that he can accomplish more by remaining on the job in Washington than by indulging in this observation and I believe everyone except you agrees with him.

He did not apply for transfer to the "inactive list" but to the National Guard Reserve. Your reference to his having voted "for conscription for the other fellow while he remains seated in Congress on the inactive list watching his colleagues lay down their Congressional assignments" is equally erroneous in that no Congressman is subject to conscription, nor is anyone else of Mr. Jarman's age. Furthermore, none of his colleagues will lay down their Congressional assignments. There were only three National Guardsmen in Congress. Two of them did not pretend to go to active duty and Congressman Starnes says he will be in Washington on January 1st.

In addition to more than two years service as an officer during the war, our Congressman has served in the National Guard since 1922, having had two weeks training practically every year. It would, in my opinion, have been ridiculous for him to have deserted the duties we elected him to perform, which he is doing so capably, merely for the addition of another year's training to the vast amount already experienced, and, without any desire to reflect on your great ability and the maturity of your judgment, I can but prefer the opinion of soldiers, heroes and statesmen such as he and Secretary of War Stimson on where our Congressman's first duty was in this instance.

Friday's Birmingham News refers to Secretary Stimson having urged such action on Mr. Jarman in the following words: "It is my considered opinion that in the present situation a member of Congress can render greater service to the nation by continuing to perform the duties of that office than by serving with the armed forces. That this entails the sacrifice of your National Guard commission I most sincerely regret, but I think you will agree that there is, at present, no other solution."

You would not know, of course, but there are those in Shelby County who are aware that our Congressman's recent fine efforts in behalf of our country afforded one of the main reasons for his decision. While you will give him no credit for the benefit to Shelby County which will result from these efforts, nor would you have done so had they proven entirely successful, which would have occurred but for the terrain. Your paper will very soon carry an announcement of the location of a tremendous defense plant in our section for which Mr. Jarman is largely responsible; in fact, he has worked on it six months while no other member of either house from Alabama, including the Congressman just over in whose district it will be located because of a preferable site there, was aware of the possibility of its location in our state.

Thanking you in advance and with kind regards, I am
Yours sincerely,
J. A. HINES, M. D.

Funeral Rites Are Held For Dr. J. A. Moore

Noted Educator, Once President Of Alabama College, Is Buried At Former Home in Jasper

Dr. James Alexander Moore, beloved citizen of Montevallo and widely known Alabama educator, died Tuesday in a Birmingham hospital after a brief illness. He was stricken with a heart attack at his home here about a week ago, and was carried to the hospital. It was reported that he later developed pneumonia, from which he died early Tuesday.

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the First Methodist Church in Jasper, of which he had been a steward and former Sunday School superintendent. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery, Jasper, with Luquire of Birmingham directing. The body lay in state at the Jasper church from 10 to 11 a.m.

Native of Montevallo

Dr. Moore was a native of this community. He was reared in the Dry Valley neighborhood about 3 miles from Montevallo. The old Moore homestead, a landmark in this section of Alabama, is still owned and operated as an extensive plantation by members of the family.

Early in life he chose the teaching profession as his career and he became widely known as an educator. A member of the Alabama College faculty nine years, Dr. Moore was chairman of the faculty and for one year was acting president of the institution. This was, of course, in the earlier days before the name was changed to Alabama College.

In 1911 and 1912 he was president of the Oklahoma State College for Women. Upon resigning from that position, he moved to Jasper, where he was principal of the Walker County High School 10 years, and for 12 years was head of the Walker County school system.

President of A. E. A.

He formerly was president of the Alabama County Superintendents Association, and also of the Alabama Education Association. In 1924 he was awarded a doctor of laws degree by the University of Alabama in recognition of his work in state educational programs. He was a member of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, a Knight Templar, a thirty-second degree Mason, a member of the Montevallo Civic Club, steward of the Methodist Church in Montevallo, and past president of the Jasper Rotary Club.

About five years ago Dr. and Mrs. Moore moved back to Montevallo from Jasper. He became president of the Merchants and Planters Bank, giving up that position two years ago to retire from active business pursuits.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Haley Moore; three brothers, Sam C. Moore, Montevallo; Dr. Cliff Moore, Lindale, Ga.; and Dr. Cary Moore, Talladega; four sisters, Mrs. Linda Sessions, Mrs. W. W. Randall, and Mrs. Joe W. Bailey, Birmingham; and Miss Mary Sue Moore, Montevallo.

Junior Class To Present Sparkling Comedy Of The Christmas Season

Dr. Southall To Visit On Campus

Dr. Maycie K. Southall, professor of education, Peabody College, Nashville, will address Alabama College students at a special convocation program December 13, at 12 o'clock. Dr. Southall's appearance on the campus is under the sponsorship of the Association for Childhood Education.

In the evening following her lecture the Alabama College unit of the Association for Childhood Education will honor Dr. Southall at a banquet in the College Union Building, Reynolds Hall.

Miss Lela Wade Rice, supervisor in the training school, is head of the association playing host to Dr. Southall, and she is in charge of arrangements.

College Publishes Program Exercises Of Dedication

Alabama College is this week mailing to interested friends of the institution a book which has just come from the press containing the five speeches made at the impressive Exercises of Dedication for the new buildings which were held in an all-day ceremony on the campus at Montevallo last spring. The speeches were delivered by Governor Dixon, Senator Lister Hill, Donald Comer, Gessner T. McCorvey, of the State Democratic Executive Committee, and State Superintendent of Education A. H. Collins.

In the attractive book are full-page pictures of former Governor B. B. Comer, for whom Comer Hall is named, and of Miss Julia S. Tutwiler. The new senior dormitory is named for Miss Tutwiler. There are also pictures of the new buildings and the five speakers of the day.

As a concluding feature, the book carries the words of President A. F. Harman with which he formally dedicated the new classroom building, dormitory, College Union Building, and library "to happy and gracious living for students who shall come to the campus in quest of the power and freedom that derive from knowledge."

Speech Chorus Makes Tour Of North Alabama

The Speech Chorus at Alabama College spent the first part of the week in an intensive tour of North Alabama, where they gave programs at Anniston High School, Attalla High School, and Gadsden High School, before giving their principal program of the trip in the Reich Hotel before the Women's Club of Gadsden. On the return trip, the Speech Chorus stopped in Ashville Tuesday night, where they gave a program at the high school there.

Miss Ellen-Haven Gould, head of the speech department and director of the Speech Chorus, accompanied the group on their trip.

The following sixteen girls—members of the Speech Chorus—went on the trip and took part in the programs: Lois Blake, Fairfield; Patricia Bozenhard, Birmingham; Robbie Nell Christopher, Athens; Mary Anne Edwards, Bessemer; Jeanne Espy, Gadsden; Gladys Fuller, New Brockton; Mary Scott Howell, Selma; Pauline McCool, Bessemer; Martha McRae, Florida; Mary Kelly Porter, New Albany, Miss.; Martha Ross, Birmingham; Swift, Gadsden; Frances Ward, Bessemer; Dorothy Watson, Birmingham; and Nell Wooten, Montevallo.

The junior class of Alabama College will present the sparkling comedy, "The Goose Hangs High," on Wednesday evening, December 13, in Palmer Auditorium. Miss Ellen-Haven Gould, Miss Nora Landmark, and Mr. John A. Walker are directing the play.

This fast-moving comedy is marked with good humor and truth. The theme, based on the Christmas idea, is the effort of a modern family to adjust itself to difficult circumstances.

Pat Bozenhard will play the role of Eunice Ingals, the mother, opposite Lucile Argo, who is Bernard Ingals, the father. Ezelle Bonner will be Leo Day, a social climber; Noel Derby, Jean Vick; Roda, the maid, Jean Childress; Mrs. Julia Murdock, Mary Grace Orr; Mrs. Bradley, Mary Anne Edwards; Virginia Pitts, Mrs. Murdock's son, Ronald; Dagmar Callall, Martha McRae; Elliott Kimlinly, Estelle Burt; and the three Ingals children, Hugh, Lois and Bradley, will be portrayed by Carolyn Norris, Thelma Roberts, and Betty Biggs.

Production Committees

Working on the various production committees are: Melba Ruth Jones, production manager; Frances Whitt, business and box office; Charlotte Meinwald, staging; Jerry Redden, lights; Margaret Allen, wardrobe; Robbie Nell Christopher, bookholder and make-up; Ruth Wright, properties (large); Julia Rinehart, properties (small); Mary Barton Ware, ushers; Madelyn Wright and Annie Boyd Parker, publicity; Martha McGowan, posters.

The play is especially appealing and suited to the season. It is one you cannot afford to miss.

Student Newspaper Is Quoted By Collegiate Press

In a round-up this week of student editorial opinion taken from six representative colleges and universities by the Associated Collegiate Press, the Alabamian, campus newspaper at Alabama College, is quoted along with editorials from student papers at Notre Dame, Missouri, and Indiana.

Editorial Reprinted

Miss Lois Anne Smith of Tallassee, editor of The Alabamian, wrote the editorial which is being reprinted by other college newspapers throughout the United States and Canada. Editors of the Associated Collegiate Press call this "a symposium on editorial policy," and it is printed in the Collegiate Press Review. An excerpt from Miss Smith's statement of policy frankly admits: "The Alabamian will probably say things the students won't like. If we do, talk back to us; tell us what you think."

The lively response which this challenge received has helped to make the Alabamian editorial page, with its letters, editorials, and cartoons, a department of the paper read with most active interest by the students.

Almont Negro School Adds Two Rooms

W. S. Bolden, principal, and Jesse Peoples, chairman of the trustee board, express the thanks of the faculty and trustees of Almont Junior High School for all contributions to the school building fund.

Final reports made on Sunday, December 8, totaled $378.72. The total cost of adding two rooms to the building was $825. Work on the addition is almost complete, it was stated.

Negroes To Feature Progress In Fair

The annual County Fair and Farmers and Domestic Workers Conference for Negroes will be held at the County Training School, Columbiana, on Friday, December 13. Exhibits from schools and Parent - Teachers Associations will be on display all day. Miss Marion Cotney, home demonstration agent, Mr. W. M. Clark, assistant county agent, and Mr. W. F. Tidwell, principal of Montevallo High School, will serve as judges of the exhibits.

The conference program will be centered around the theme, "Education for the Common Defense by Building Economic Security," and will begin at ten o'clock. Prominent state and county educational officials will appear on the program. Music will be furnished by the County Training School, Almont, and Vincent groups. A cordial invitation is extended to white and colored citizens to attend this program. See what is being done to produce better Negro citizens through school and P. T. A. activities.

Seal Sale Campaign Meets Expectations

Returns show that the local Christmas seal campaign in Shelby County is coming up to expectations. There is still time to make this an outstanding year in the annals of the seal campaign in this county. When the final tabulation is completed, it is expected that the 1940 figure will be one to be proud of. A successful Christmas seal campaign means that the local tuberculosis association can carry on its winning fight against this disease in 1941.

Here is quite a fitting definition of unpaid-for seals: "They are dead soldiers in the war against tuberculosis. Yes, each seal was a soldier, alive and equipped, sent out to meet one of the worst enemies of mankind. But if they aren't paid for—if they are allowed to remain in desk drawers or buried under papers at home—they are useless."

Every person who has received seals in the mail should respond. Send those soldiers marching into the war without an armistice. We want no dead soldiers in Shelby County.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church had its organizational meeting on Monday afternoon at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Thomas M. Davis. Mr. Davis explained something of the idea of the group, and Mrs. Ted Bridges was chosen president, Mrs. Stanley White, vice-president, and Mrs. R. J. Mabry, secretary. A Christmas program with the devotional by Mrs. W. J. Kennerly, and a story by Mrs. Mabry proved quite inspiring.

BAD NEWS FOR HIM!

Chelsea Group Visit Holtville School

A group of citizens from Chelsea community visited Holtville School in Elmore County on November 16 in order to make a study of the set-up of a unified school and community program. The citizens of the community have been interested in making progress along worthwhile lines for several years. There is at present an interest in a closer community activity built around the school as a center. When plans were being made for the trip, it was thought two cars were enough, but we could have carried several car loads. At some future date it is planned to carry other citizens also for an inspection.

At the school, Mr. Chrietberg, the principal, and teachers and students made us feel at home. We could tell we were welcomed by all we met. The party of twelve was broken into small groups with a guide for each group. Nearly all members inspected the same things but not in the same order, and the order of incidents about inspections given here only follows one group's routine.

The school has about 500 students enrolled, we were told, in all grades. The junior-senior high school has no grade levels for either grade, that is, not classified as such. A child of the 7th grade age might be doing the same work with a 12th grade child. The plan of the school is to attend twelve years and get a diploma at the end of the period with recommendations as to future ability in whatever may be chosen by the graduate, work or college.

The group was shown the classroom work. Students were working in groups and individually. The teacher was the guide and not the old type of "assign a lesson and see that the child does it." There was good order in all the work; no teacher was standing in the halls to see that there was order. A teacher was not necessary in many of the activities as the child was so absorbed in his work or interest that he was learning for himself.

The wood and machine shop was open for boys and girls so interested. One boy was making a hammer handle as an example of the work. No teacher was present. In the arts and crafts building children were painting and doing other things in which much skill seemed to be achieved.

There was a small pottery shop at which a boy was working. Others had been making things from clay and some were on display.

There is a printing shop which puts out a bi-monthly paper called the Holtville Star. All work is done by the students. Only those interested in the work of printing take part. The canning plant is an immense school and community project in which students learn and both community and school profit.

The refrigeration plant is also a school-community project in which students do work for the farmers of the community. All the farmer does is slaughter and dress his hog; the school takes the meat and later delivers cured meats, sausage, pork chops, or whatever is desired. All work is done by students learning the trade.

There is also a hatchery for hatching chickens for those who need them. The hatchery pays its own way, as do all the other enterprises, by selling chickens in all parts of the state.

Our Roadside Roses

Birmingham has gained much favorable publicity from the rose plantings which decorate several of the principal highways leading into town. Birmingham residents have also enjoyed the improvement. Consequently, there is concern at the report that the bushes are suffering from neglect.

Rose plants are like houses and machinery. They have to be kept up. They depreciate. For them to do their best they need to be trimmed and cut back. To neglect Birmingham's rose trails is on the same level with failing to keep one's house painted or the automobile well oiled. It was a fine thing to set out these rose plants. Let not the good be undone now by neglect.

If Birmingham fails to keep up the good work already begun, we shall fall behind other Alabama cities where the beautification idea has taken hold. Only last week Huntsville joined the list of cities with a vision by planting dogwoods along the principal streets and avenues. When the present planting is completed, the city will have more than a thousand dogwood trees along its streets.

It is a fine piece of work which Huntsville is doing, but Birmingham residents are in for some chagrin if in the future we come back from a trip through Huntsville's beauty only to face bedraggled and unkempt rose trails around this city.—Birmingham News.

Some Suggestions

Read the above editorial from the Birmingham News before you proceed into these suggestions for our own town. It contains some thoughts that are adaptable to Montevallo.

With the expenditure of a good bit of elbow grease and perhaps no money (except for water, which the town might be induced to provide), we could line our streets with crape myrtle, roses, dogwood or some other beautiful plants and shrubs which grow plentifully in the woods at our very doors.

If considerable effort were made in this direction by the people of the town, Alabama College, no doubt, would cooperate to the extent of permitting the transfer of dogwood trees from its lands to the town, if a plan could be devised for getting them out of the woods.

Smaller towns like Montevallo have a simpler problem than cities like Birmingham and Huntsville in respect to such programs as beautification.

And thinking of plans for a better-looking town, we come around again to the ever-present possibility for improvement by cleaning up unsightly places, cutting weeds on vacant lots and plots of ground, and burning accumulated rubbish.

The Times offers the suggestion for 1941 that we really put some effort along such lines as the above. We can really make Montevallo beautiful, if we will. Let's not stop at the efforts that have already been made.

Alabama College campus is one of the most beautiful spots in the world. The town of Montevallo looks bad by the side of it. We may not hope soon to make the town in general look as good as the college campus; but certainly in a few years we could work out a permanent plan of trees, flowers, shrubs and diligent care that would make the town more nearly compatible with the beauty of the college.

Here is a field of great usefulness that is capable of absorbing all the excess energy our citizens can muster for a long time.

Senior III Class Will Give Toys

Miss Barker's Senior III class of Montevallo High School is sponsoring a toy project for the benefit of under-privileged children who would otherwise receive no Christmas gifts.

For the last two weeks, time has been spent in collecting, repairing, and making toys. Several other classes have helped the seniors by making stuffed toys and doll clothes. Other organizations contributing to the project have been the Girl Scouts and classes in the elementary school.

In cooperation with the project, Mr. Eddie Watson, manager of the Strand Theatre, gave a movie Tuesday morning, December 10. Each student brought a toy or ten cents for admission to the show. All the proceeds went to the toy project and has helped to make it a big success.

In the last minute rush of your holiday shopping and mailing—don't forget to buy and use your Christmas seals.

Looking Foward
To "White X'mas"

The 72 boys and 89 girls of all ages, including 29 little ones in the nursery, now being cared for at the Methodist Children's Home at Selma, are looking forward with keen anticipation to "White Christmas" on Sunday, December 22.

That is the day which will decide their fate in 1941, for on that day every Methodist man, woman and child in Alabama and West Florida are asked to make their contribution in their respective church, Sunday School, or Young People's Departments for the benefit of this home. At least $30,000 is asked for this Christmas to meet the many needs of the home.

Not only is provision to be made for these children, but it is also absolutely necessary that the calls of scores of others on the waiting list, who have been clamoring for admission, be answered and without further delay, according to Kenneth E. Cooper, Birmingham, chairman of the board of directors, and Dr. R. J. Millis, superintendent of the home, Selma.

Other particulars, including supplies, programs, Christmas plays, and information, with reference to "White Christmas" programs may be obtained by applying to Mrs. Olin H. Horton, in charge of campaign headquarters, 606 First National Building, Birmingham.

GIRL SCOUTS

Girl Scout Council

The Girl Scout Council will meet with Mrs. Appleton on Thursday afternoon, December 12, at 3:30.

Chief's Teepee Presented to
Girl Scouts

Teepee made by the Medicine Women of the Blackfoot Tribe was presented recently to the Girl Scouts by Daniel Carter Beard, national commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, at his home in Suffern, N. Y. The gift was received by Mrs. Ralph G. Wright, chairman of the Girl Scout national executive committee, in the presence of a guard of honor made up of sixteen Girl Scouts and twelve Boy Scouts.

In presenting the gift Mr. Beard said: "I have great faith in our splendid American girls, great faith in their nobility and their sincere Americanism. I would like to give this teepee as a token of my admiration for them."

The teepee, a museum piece, is ornamented with stained porcupine quills. Its painted emblems mark it a chief's teepee.

Every Christmas Girl Scouts solicit discarded toys. Back home, in an attic workshop, perhaps, they roll up their sleeves, brush up on their patience, and array paints, brushes, nails, and hammers on a table near at hand. After hours of painstaking work, old toys emerge into shiny new playthings for the community's less fortunate.

Progress Made In Reducing Tuberculosis

Montgomery, Ala.—Although remarkable progress has been made in Alabama and elsewhere in reducing the tuberculosis death rate, this disease still takes high rank among the baffling health problems of the state and nation, according to Dr. J. N. Baker, state health officer, who called attention to the annual tuberculosis Christmas seal sale and urged its generous support by the people of Alabama.

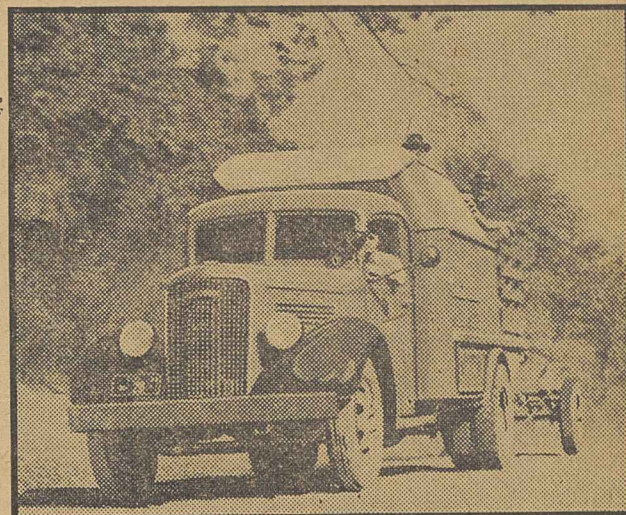

"Tuberculosis is by no means conquered," he declared. "Its killing power has been greatly curbed, and that, of course, is a cause for gratification, but a form of illness that ranked in seventh place last year among all causes of death and in sixth place among diseases is still a major health problem and is likely to remain one for a long time."

The seal sale in this state began November 25 and will continue until Christmas Day. Receipts from the sale will be used to finance tuberculosis activities in all parts of the country during the next year.

How about those Christmas seals you received in the mail? By buying and using them, you are preventing thousands of people from getting tuberculosis. You are helping thousands who have the disease to get well.

In the joy and happiness that abounds at this season of the year, it is well to think of those who are not as fortunate—those who are ill with tuberculosis. In buying Christmas Seals you are helping them get well and helping to prevent others from getting tuberculosis.

This Is Part of Our
Mechanized "Army"

BUILT to "take it," line trucks such as this, with equipment ranging from a concealed derrick down to a screw driver, and manned by crews of husky, capable workmen, are a part of our "mechanized field army," ever on the alert to keep open Reddy Kilowatt's "lines of communication" to your home, store or factory. They're one of the reasons why, even when Nature stages a surprise attack, interruptions to your electric service are rare, and then only for short periods of time.

Backing up the line crews are well-equipped machine shops where both regular and emergency mechanical repair work can be done quickly. "Quartermaster" depots at numerous locations keep on hand thousands of pieces of equipment and spare parts for replacement in case of need.

At nearly a hundred points in the state, groups of employees are assigned to definite areas, and charged with the responsibility of maintaining service in these communities. Other men work singly, patrolling the transmission lines—often afoot, sometimes by boat—with their eyes alert for a condition which might result in an interruption of service.

At the steam- and hydro-generating plants, a corps of specialists keeps the big generators tuned up and running smoothly, so that Reddy Kilowatt will be ready to perform light and heavy tasks the instant you flick the switch.

And yet, with all of this—which involves heavy expense—

Public Deer Hunt A Big Success

Thirty-seven antlered bucks were killed and a total of 581 hunters took part in the series of public hunts in the Black Warrior National Forest beginning November 20 and ending December 5, according to Conservation Department reports turned in by Amos Spiller, game warden. Authorities said that the hunts were eminently successful, attracting nimrods from Alabama and several other Southern States. The U. S. Forest Service and the State Department of Conservation were co-sponsors of the hunts.

On the bow and arrow hunt November 20-25, only four hunters took part and no deer were killed. The still hunt November 28-30 attracted 76 hunters and four deer were bagged. On the two dog hunts—December 2-3 and 4-5—500 nimrods swarmed the forests and bagged 33 antlered bucks. Few violations were reported and there was only one accident—a hunter lost a finger joint when his gun went off accidentally, it was reported.

The lucky hunters were listed as follows: D. Trotter Jones, Montgomery; J. J. Howle, Bowdon, Ga.; S. D. Hyatt, Trade; C. M. Scales, Jr., Decatur; Richard Vaughn, Decatur; Harry Bennett, Manchester; W. D. Bailey, Hodges; W. D. Denton, Kennedy; H. L. Buckley, Sulligent; C. D. Christmas Activities At College Are In Full Swing

With a giant star shining down from the picturesque tower which stands in the center of their campus, and a busy round of Christmas festivities on their calendar, girls at Alabama College are acutely conscious of the Christmas holidays which begin for them Friday.

As its part of the holiday fun, the Recreation Association sponsored a "Merry Christmas" dance in the college Field House Saturday evening from 8:00 to 10:30 p.m., to which both faculty and students were invited.

The Secretarial Science Club gave a party for its members earlier the same evening in the College Union Building, Reynolds Hall.

In Palmer Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday, the Christmas note was injected into campus dramatics when the junior class presented the popular Christmas comedy by Lewis Beach, "The Goose Hangs High." This play was directed by Miss Ellen-Haven Gould, head of the speech department, assisted by Miss Nora Landmark, and John A. Walker, technical director.

Students in the several Montevallo church groups gave special Christmas exercises last Sunday, with the Presbyterian Student Association of the college producing a Christmas pageant, directed by Miss Peggy Kirk of Mobile. The pageant was presented at the Montevallo Presbyterian Church. Following the program, the students went about town caroling, and returned to the Manse for cocoa and cookies.

Alabama College is cooperating with the town of Montevallo in the matter of Christmas decorations for the community. Besides the great star on the tower which stands in the center of the campus commanding a view of the surrounding countryside, a large cedar tree in front of Main Dormitory has been illuminated with Christmas lights, bringing into focus many other signs of Christmas cheer brightening the campus this week.

Students return to their classes on Monday, January 6.

Alabama College Girls Knitting For British Soldiers

British soldiers are going to have Alabama College girls to thank for a number of sweaters and other knitted goods which the busily clicking needles at Montevallo will soon be producing.

A knitting project for British war relief is being sponsored on the campus by the Religious Council, under the direction of Miss Margaret McAllister, of Mobile. For those girls who do not know how to knit, but who want to help out, Miss Josephine Eddy, of the home economics faculty, is organizing a class for beginners. According to Miss McAllister, the thread being used in this project is being donated, and it is up to the girls at Alabama College to turn the thread into much-needed afghans, sweaters, and other additions to the wardrobe of the British Tommy.

POST OFFICE WILL BE OPEN SATURDAY AFTERNOON

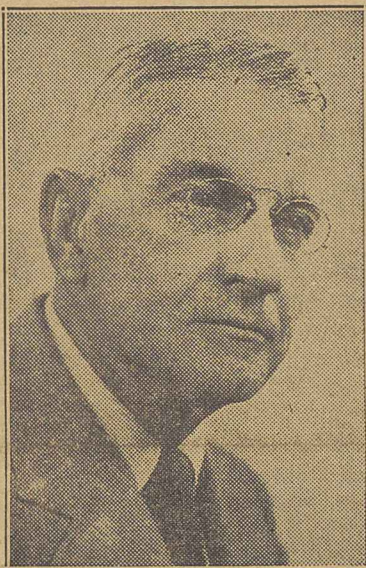

The post office will be open Saturday of this week until 6 p.m. for the transaction of all business. This arrangement is announced by Postmaster R. A. Reid and is made for the convenience of those who may have extra Christmas mail for receipt or dispatch.

Christmas Music

Christmas shoppers in Montevallo during the holidays will have the opportunity of hearing Christmas music. A public address system will be installed in the Baptist Church and the organists and choirs of the Montevallo churches will provide music for the people in the business district. There will be programs Saturday afternoon and evening of this week and Monday and Tuesday of next week. The church will be warm and any who want to rest a while or come inside to hear the music may do so.

This is a new feature in Montevallo and we hope you will enjoy it. We hope that it will help to deepen the spiritual note of Christmas and to bring the peace of Christ to all hearts. Tell your friends about it and invite them to come to town and enjoy the music from the organ and the choirs.

Where to Apply For F. S. A. Loans

"Farmers in Shelby County seeking Farm Security loans for the purchase or refinancing of necessary livestock, farm equipment, feed and seed through the Farm Security Administration, may apply at the County RR supervisor's office, located in the old court house building at Columbiana," announces James N. Dennis, county RR supervisor. The office will be open every day during the week from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m., except on Saturdays. It will be open then only until 12:00 o'clock.

Farmers who have been unable to secure adequate credit to place their farms on satisfactory operating bases are eligible for the Farm Security loans to provide a new start in farming. The farm occupied or to be rented must be large enough to support the family and appear capable of providing a margin of profit for repayment of loans based on sound and practical farm and home plans.

Terms of the loan provide for annual repayment of one-fifth of the total amount borrowed, plus the deposit of an operating capital to make a crop on the next year. The rate of interest is five per cent.

It is requested that all interested parties file applications at once.

CORRECTION

It was stated in last week's issue of The Times that the Montevallo Study Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club were lighting the Christmas tree on the Baptist Church lawn. This was an error on the part of the Times' reporter. The Montevallo Studiosis is working on this project instead of the Business and Professional Women's Club, as previously reported.

Complying with the request of Dr. William Lyon Phelps, the Concert and Lecture Committee at Alabama College this week moved forward the date of his scheduled lecture here from March 7 to Friday, January 10.

Dr. Phelps' lecture will be one of the first campus-wide attractions awaiting Alabama College girls when they return from their holidays January 6.

For more than forty years, Dr. Phelps has been associated in various academic capacities with Yale University, and his widely known books, radio talks, and lectures have made the name of "Billy" Phelps a household word in America. First brought to public attention as a sponsor of radical classroom innovations at Yale, Dr. Phelps has become over the years a more conservative but no less enthusiastic commentator on the progress of the human comedy.

As President Roosevelt recently said: "There is about Billy Phelps an atmosphere of perpetual and enduring youth, and his broad humanity is in the flavor of his talk."

His appearance in Montevallo will mark the fourth number of the current Concert and Lecture Course, which this year includes such attractions as the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra on February 6; the Theatre of Angna Enters on March 5; and the Hanya Holm Dancers March 24-25.

Y. W. A. Gives Xmas Celebration

A true Christmas celebration was given by the Baptist Young Women's Auxiliary when they entertained the children of the Negro Baptist Church Saturday night, December 14. Accompanied by Santa Claus in person, the girls walked to the church in a body, caroling all the way.

At the church many eager little people awaited the coming of Santa and presented a program of Christmas music while they waited.

Following an introduction by Miss Freda Cowan, Y. W. A. president, a brief talk was given by Dr. F. B. Pearson, pastor of the Baptist Church. Dr. J. I. Riddle, college Sunday School teacher, told of the missionary work of the Y. W. A. Then Santa appeared and presented gifts from a well-laden tree.

Before going to the church, the college girls held their annual Christmas party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. I. Riddle. The Christmas atmosphere was provided by a blue-lighted tree and a visit from Santa.

LEGION TO MEET

Congressman Jarman Sponsors Congressional Record Change

President Arthur Fort Harman will extend Christmas greetings to the people of Alabama from their State College for Women as a feature of this weekly variety show which originates each Thursday on the campus.

M. H. S. Begins Basketball Season

By Carlos "Zipp" Wyatt

Coach Jimmie Varnell's high school quintet began their season with a bang. The Montevallo B team dropped the opened to Maplesville by the score of 11 to 12. The Maplesville team took the lead in the early part of the game and Montevallo was never quite able to overcome the small margin held by the opposing team.

Varnell's A or first team came right back and tripped their foe with points to spare. Montevallo took the tip-off and scored in the opening seconds of the game, Captain Cecil Dennis scoring the first two points and remaining high point man throughout the game. M. H. S. held a substantial lead during the first and second periods of the game, and as the half ended, Maplesville was trailing by six points.

Beginning the last half of the game, both teams seemed to be fresh and ready to carry on. It was during this quarter that Maplesville put forth their supreme effort to close the gap between victory and defeat, bringing the score at the end of the third period to 14 to 15. But the Montevallo five was then to have their day, and in the last quarter allowed only one point while running their own score up to a ten-point lead.

M. H. S. Over Vincent

Again Montevallo stepped out in the limelight in the early minutes of the game where they stayed until the final whistle blew. Montevallo's defense proved the biggest obstacle to the Vincent quintet, never allowing them to make a crisp shot during the entire game. C. Busby, the crisp shot artist, was high scorer for Jimmie's quintet, with Lowery within one point of tying for high scoring honors. The game ended Montevallo 27, Vincent 17.

Mr. Wooten was in charge of the program, which was a continuation of a series on local businesses.

New Make-Up Will Save Money On Printing Proceedings Of National Legislature

Congressman Pete Jarman has successfully sponsored a resolution which will change the format of the Congressional Record. This resolution will change the form of the Record from a two column to a three column page, thus saving the government thousands of dollars from year to year. The change will go into effect at the beginning of the next session of Congress which opens the third of January, 1941.

The change was ordered by the Joint Committee on Printing on the motion of Congressman Jarman, who is vice-chairman. This committee has complete jurisdiction over the Government Printing Office which has the largest production capacity of any printing plant in the world.

Congressman Jarman issued the following statement: "Since I have been chairman of the House Committee on Printing and vice-chairman of the Joint Committee on Printing under the direction of which the Congressional Record is printed, it has appeared to me that the cost of printing the Record was excessive. Since March, 1873, the Record has been made up in a two column form. By changing the format to three columns, an approximate inch of printed matter per page is saved, thereby saving a page to each twenty printed. Since the average cost per page for printing the Record is $45, this will amount to a considerable saving to the government over a period of time."

"It is estimated by the Public Printer that had the three column form been in use during the 76th Congress ending this month, there would have been a saving of approximately two hundred eighty thousand dollars. The resolution which I introduced will save the cost of the government printing a proportionate amount in the future. In addition to the monetary saving, the new form is much less apt to cause eyestrain, the new column being somewhat narrower, therefore easier to read."

The present circulation of the Record is 43,000 copies. The proceedings of the present session of the 76th Congress have thus far consumed 21,000 pages.

As chairman of the House Printing Committee, Congressman Jarman maintains an office in the main Capitol Building, this fact being true of only twelve other members of this legislative body.

Art Students Get Membership

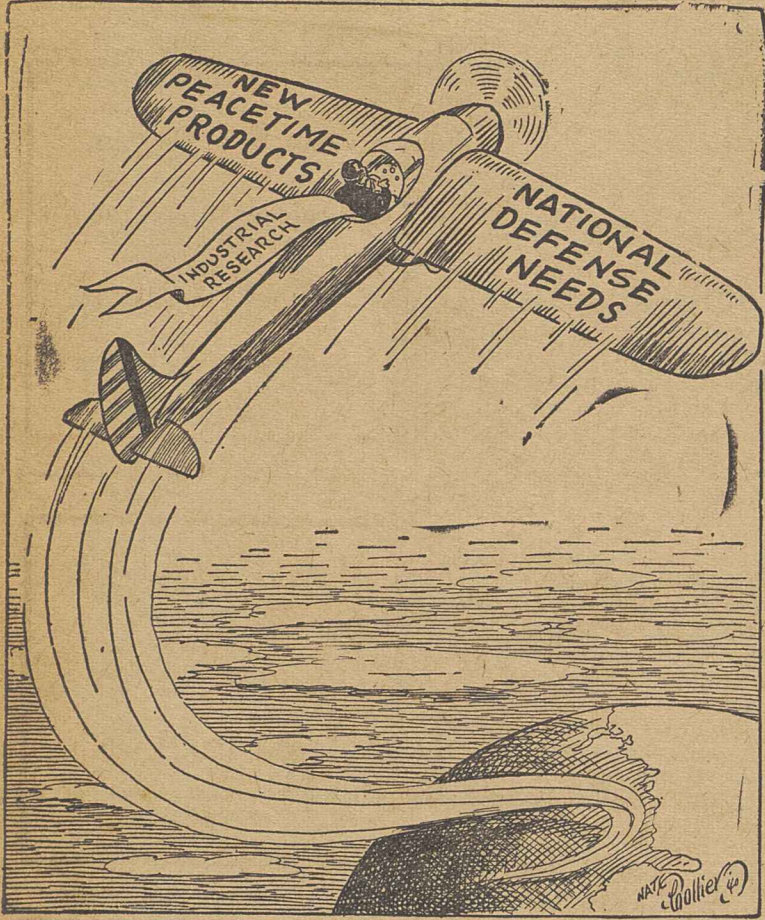

According to an announcement by the officials of the Watercolor Society of Alabama, three Alabama College students were this week awarded membership in the society on the basis of original work with watercolors which they submitted to the membership jury.

The girls honored were Misses Dorothy Dobbins, of Birmingham, Jean Winn, of Birmingham, and Jane Stacy, of Centreville—all students in the art department of the college.

The paintings which won their membership are now on exhibition at the Museum of Fine Arts in Montgomery. According to the officers of the Watercolor Society, any Alabama artist who submits a painting of professional quality is eligible for membership.

Alabama College faculty members who belong to the Watercolor Society include Miss Dawn Kennedy, Mr. Joseph Marino, Miss Elizabeth Stockton, Miss Martha Allen, and Mrs. Virginia Barnes.

IN FULL FLIGHT

A Commendable Record

A few days ago someone suggested that we might find an interesting story at the Town Clerk's office concerning the financial operations of Montevallo during the past year.

Finally getting a few minutes' time to interview Clerk Gardner, we were given figures that indicate that financial affairs of the town are much improved in comparison with recent years. And the outlook for the future is indeed encouraging to those officials who face the job of meeting the obligations.

Time was not sufficient this week to go into details of the story. We saw enough to convince us that our officials have set up a record of achievement that is most commendable.

So, we leave the matter with only this brief comment this week. We have the promise of Mr. Gardner that he will gladly take the time right away to give us the facts that will make our story complete. When we have had time to do that, we will print the figures that will show the citizens of the town exactly what a splendid achievement has been made.

As we close this year and step into a new one, we are sure of the fact that Montevallo citizens have cause to rejoice that our town officials have operated our public business in such a manner that they have the situation well in hand and shall be able to proceed with even more constructive progress as the months go by.

Christmas Music

We anticipate with deepest emotion the new idea that is announced by the Baptist Church for broadcasting Christmas music. Situated in the heart of the business district the church will thereby add much to the evenings when many folks, while doing the shopping, will hear the touching strains of the Yuletide songs. There is also added the invitation to come inside the church and rest a while. No doubt many will avail themselves of this opportunity.

The Toy Project

Again this year the Montevallo High School has repeated its toy project bigger and better than ever before. A visit to the toy room Wednesday morning revealed heaps and heaps of toys ready to be distributed, and many boys and girls bubbling over with the Santa Claus spirit, straining at the leash, ready to start giving them away.

There will be lots of Christmas joy in many a little heart as a result of what these high school boys and girls have done in their project. And the joy will not be alone with those who receive these toys. For there are those who feel that it is more blessed to give than to receive.

Thanks To Mr. Thomas

If you must run out of gas, a good place to do it is close to Mr. J. P. Thomas' Dairy Farm. Or at least it proved a lucky place for misfortune to a group of Montevallo motorists recently. He had an extra gallon and was generous in giving it to the needy.

(Note—Mention is made of this incident here under duress.)

We Miss a Friend

The Times misses the daily visits of our friend, Dr. J. Alex Moore. Over the period of the last five years he came to see us regularly. He brought a word of cheer each time he came. Always calm, sincere, understanding, he was not offended if he happened to come at a time when we were too busy to chat with him. His visits always were appreciated. It is as ever sad to realize that some day will bring an end to the joy that emanates from association with a friend.

ALLOWANCE INCREASED FOR STATE INSTITUTIONS

Montgomery, Ala.—An increase of 25 cents a week for the care of each patient in the state's two hospitals for the insane and the Partlow School for the feeble-minded, was authorized last week by Gov. Frank M. Dixon.

The increase, to become effective January 1, will raise the scale from $3.50 a week for each patient to $3.75 a week. Dr. W. D. Partlow, superintendent of the institutions, had recommended $4.00.

During 1940 the three institutions received $1,148,583, plus $65,000 for building purposes, from the state, according to State Finance Director A. R. Forsyth. That amount was more than had been originally budgeted to that purpose, he said.

Mr. Forsyth wrote the Governor: "If we increase the weekly allowance, it will make an additional expense for this fiscal year of $78,204 more than we spent in 1940, or $129,287.50 more than we have in our budget."

1941 AAA PAYMENT RATES ANNOUNCED

Auburn, Ala.—Principal change in the rates of payments for the 1941 AAA program is that of making available a greater share of funds to farmers who carry out approved soil building practices, according to A. W. Jones, state AAA administrative officer.

The payments for Southern crops based on normal yields of acreage allotments are: Cotton, 1.37 cents per pound; peanuts, $2.25 per ton; commercial potatoes, 2.3 cents per bushel; flue-cured tobacco, .8 cents per pound. These payments are contingent upon the $500,000,000 appropriation authorized in 1938 Agricultural Adjustment Act, and rates are subject to revision upward or downward, based on the number of farmers participating.

"The 1941 program continues provisions aimed at more soil conservation," Jones said. "There is, for example, the provision enabling farmers to plan 5-year conservation programs for their farms such as is being used in Alabama in 1941."

Lighting of Highway Completed Soon

Bessemer, Ala.—Of general interest among public spirited Alabamians who are following the progressive steps being taken daily to make the state's highways safer and more comfortable for those who use them, by night as well as by day, is the announcement that the lighting project to illuminate the Bessemer - Birmingham superhighway is expected to be completed by the end of the present month. This announcement has just been made by officials of the Bessemer Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the project.

Covering a distance of more than five miles and forming a direct connection with the city limits of Birmingham and those of Bessemer, the super six-lane boulevard is to be illuminated by 227 special highway lighting fixtures, spaced at 125 foot intervals along each side. Designed to provide safer illumination for night driving, the lighting units will be a major factor in the reduction of traffic accidents in the territory the super-highway serves.

All lighting installations are being made by the Birmingham Electric Company, under contract with the Highway Department, approved and signed by State Highway Director Chris J. Sherlock, under which the department agrees to pay to the company an agreed figure for the lighting service on the basis of a specified sum per light per year.

Bessemer Jaycees are now planning a formal dedication ceremony to mark the opening of the longest section of lighted highway in the entire South. With the announcement from the Birmingham Electric Company that the installation will be completed by the end of the month, present plans are for the opening ceremonies and dedications to take place at 7:00 p.m. on Monday, December 30, at Bessemer.

Immediately following the dedication a reception will be held in honor of officials and other guests participating in the program.

Early in the past week a committee composed of Max Pickens, president of the Bessemer Junior Chamber of Commerce, William R. Phillips, also an official of that organization, and Walter B. Mills of Gadsden, state president of the Jaycees and chairman of the Safety-with-Light Committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of the United States, were in Montgomery for conferences with Governor Frank M. Dixon, State Highway Director Sherlock, and Director T. Weller Smith, of the department of Public Safety, to acquaint them with details of the opening program and invite them to be present. The committee brought along one of the huge lighting units, each of 6,000 lumens capacity, to illustrate exactly what the lighting project equipment will consist of.

Present indications are, it is stated, that a record-breaking crowd will be on hand when the electric switch is thrown that will illuminate the super-highway for its entire length. Predictions are being made that this crowd will total not less than 20,000.

A. A. A. Materials Valued Highly

Essential soil building fertilizer and Austrian winter pea seed valued at $760,000 went to Alabama farmers as conservation materials under the 1940 AAA grant-of-aid program, announces A. W. Jones, state AAA administrative officer. The 1940 program officially closed on November 30, but these materials will be offered again in 1941.

Included in the conservational materials which farmers obtained in lieu of a portion of their AAA payments were 3,769,000 pounds of triple superphosphate, 43,926,800 pounds of calcium silicate (by-product of the Muscle Shoals fertilizer plant), 80,140,800 pounds of lime, 12,806,400 pounds of Austrian winter pea seed, and 69,266,600 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate.

Benefit Payments Total $3,309 In County In Month

Unemployment benefit payments in Shelby County totaled $3,309 during November, according to the monthly report of the Unemployment Compensation Agency made public today by Judge John D. Petree, director of industrial relations.

Payments throughout Alabama in November came to $313,869 and represented 43,710 checks for weeks of unemployment during the month. Judge Petree reported that checks issued in November represented a sixteen per cent decrease from October, while the total amount of benefit payments in November showed a decrease of fifteen per cent from the preceding month.

Alabama's unemployment trust fund was called upon for less in November than in any month of 1940, indicating better business conditions and more general employment in Alabama as the year comes to a close. Payments in November brought the total since February 1, 1938, when the first benefit check was issued, to $17,000,000. Judge Petree also announced that the unemployment trust fund now contains $17,287,000 which will be available for benefits to eligible unemployed workers in the future. This is $7,500,000 more than the fund held at the time the first benefit check was issued nearly three years ago.

Negro Children Give Carol Program

Negro school children representing seven schools of the county presented their annual Christmas carol program in the court house auditorium on Sunday afternoon, December 22, at 2:30 o'clock. Various familiar songs of the Yuletide season were included on the program. Among them were "Silent Night," "Joy to the World," "Star of the East," "We Adore Thee," and many others, including a number of Negro spirituals. One hundred and fifty pupils appeared on the program, singing as individual choruses and blending their voices together in a combined chorus for several numbers.

(St. Luke 2:7-20)

7. And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

8. And there were in that same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

9. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone around about them: and they were sore afraid.

10. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which will be to all people.

11. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

12. And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

13. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of heavenly hosts praising God, and saying,

14. Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

15. And it came to pass as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which has come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16. And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17. And when they had seen it they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning the child.

18. And all they that heard it, wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19. But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

"MERRY CHRISTMAS"

About all you will find in this issue of The Times is a "Merry Christmas" from somebody. Many local business houses have used their advertising space to bring you their expressions fitting for the Christmas season.

The editor and others of the "force" who work to make The Times join in the expression of Merry Christmas to you.

We come to the end of the year with a feeling of gratitude to all who have contributed to making 1940 the best year The Times has ever had. It has been indeed pleasant to serve you and we hope our efforts have measured up to your expectations.

Christmas this year, in its broadest sense, gives one a feeling of both joy and fear. Joy for the peace and good things we have in our land; and fear that chaotic world conditions may soon sweep us into the terrible conflict of force and destruction.

We must face the future with the grimness necessary to carry us through any ordeal with steadfast determination to hold to our Christian ideals.

Ours is about the only country left where there is peace and good will among men. Even if actually it seems futile to hope that we shall live to see again a world at peace, yet we must not give up that hope. We must keep it sacred and secure in our hearts.

OUR CHRISTMAS MUSIC

The broadcast of Christmas music from the Baptist Church has been an inspiring addition to our community's observance of the sacred season.

We are almost in agreement with the expression of one of our citizens that the music is more fitting and more impressive than the street lights. But we should say that the music and the lights together make a most suitable combination.

Distance mellows the music. It sounds better on the college campus than it does down town close to the church.

NEXT MEETING OF CIVIC CLUB WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 15

Miss Mary Cobb DeShazo of Talladega is spending the holidays with her mother, Mrs. Viola DeShazo.

Students Return For Holiday Visit

Here they come, the town's own boys and girls, back home to spend the holidays. It's good to walk down the street and see all those familiar faces. From far-off Chicago came Francis Peterson, who is studying art. Atlanta sends two of our young people back to us for a visit, Anne Wills of Emory University, and Henry Clay Griffin, of Georgia Tech.

What would we do without our thumbs? We bet a few were used in the transportation of these laddies by air (air you going my way?), of course! They are Bill Wilson, Bob Anderson, Francis Killingsworth, Clyde Gardner, John Reid, Pelham Thomas, Jr., Bobby Cleary, and Joe Wood. All these boys hail from Auburn. The University of Alabama puts John Orr and Zanie Nathews in our keeping for a short time. Donald Vaughan comes from Cape Girardeau, Mo., to spend the holidays.

HOMEMADE BROODER HELPING PRODUCERS

Auburn, Ala. — An easily constructed, inexpensive and economically operated homemade lamp brooder is making small flock poultry production feasible on small farms and in backyards throughout the South.

The brooder, which can be constructed for around $5 and is heated by a common kerosene lamp, was developed by Clyde Ingram, poultry specialist, Louisiana Extension Service. Since that time it has been tried and recommended in most other southern states. Thousands are now in use and others are being constructed.

It is designed to fill the needs on many farms for a brooder to take care of from 30 to 75 chicks, or less. It is built of ordinary lumber, tin, hardware, cloth, and poultry wire. The bottom, top, and sides are made in sections which make the brooder easy to clean or move to other locations. It contains a brooder four feet long and a wire-covered sun porch six feet long to allow the chicks plenty of sunshine.

For reliable mail service day or night, as the occasion demands, apply to Mr. Pendlum.

Sidney Bearden, student at Chillicothe Business College, Chillicothe, Mo., is spending the Christmas holidays with his father, Robert Bearden. He plans to return to Chillicothe to resume studies on January 6.

FARMERS APPROVE MARKETING QUOTAS

Alabama farmers are in favor of cotton marketing quotas for 1941, according to the official tabulation of the results of the December 7 referendum. Of the 121,875 farmers participating in the referendum, 115,006 favored and 6,869 opposed marketing quotas.

Incomplete returns of the referendum in 19 cotton producing states showed a total of 183,054 or 92.7 per cent of those voting favored marketing quotas, while 61,802 opposed quotas. The Alabama vote was about 92 per cent favorable.

Soldiers Increasing Consumption of Milk

The sharp increase in the number of troops stationed at Maxwell Field, Fort McClellan and other army posts in Alabama and just across the line in other states has greatly increased the consumption of milk and added to the responsibilities of those protecting soldiers and civilians against milk-borne diseases, according to Dr. J. N. Baker, state health officer, and state chairman for Alabama of the American Medical Association's Committee on Medical Preparedness.

"The State Department of Health for many years has been deeply interested in the development of the dairying industry in Alabama," he said Saturday. "In every way possible it has aided dairymen in their efforts to make their herds profitable and thus contribute to the prosperity of the state as a whole. It has been particularly interested, of course, in assisting dairy owners in seeing to it that their dairies and milk plants are equipped and operated in such a manner as to insure the highest sanitary standards. The present increase in the demand for milk has resulted in the bringing together of representatives of the State Health Department, the United States Public Health Service, the Army, the State Extension Service, and other agencies, all seeking to insure an adequate milk supply and protect the best interests of the dairy industry."

"Both the Army and the State Health Department are determined, of course, to see that the highest standards of purity are maintained in the milk that is furnished the troops at the training camps," he said. "All herds supplying milk to army posts are required by army regulations to have been tuberculin tested and the milk must meet all requirements of the local and state health departments. The army ration includes at least a half-pint of milk per day for each soldier. The public health agencies and military authorities are working, and will continue to work, in close cooperation in the effort to insure absolute purity of all milk consumed by the men in camp."

DEC. 31 IS DEADLINE FOR PARITY SIGN-UP

Alabama farmers who have not already done so should sign applications for their 1940 AAA parity payments before December 31, the deadline, A. W. Jones, state AAA administrative officer, announced this week. Those who do not sign by this date will be ineligible for payments under the program.

"These parity payments are based on the normal yields of the allotted acres of cotton and are being made at the rate of 1.44 cents per pound," he said. "They are payments made to farmers to help bolster cotton income up nearer to parity. Farmers who have not signed applications should go to the county AAA office immediately and do so."

At the same time, Jones said that farmers have until March 31, 1941, to sign applications for 1940 conservation payments, made for diverting acreage from cotton production to soil-conserving crops. He urged farmers to stand ready for signing these applications when requested by the county office so that the state AAA office should certify them for payment as early as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Riser and Olin III of Alpine were guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Reid.

Mrs. Ida Hendrick had as her guests Sunday two brothers, Mr. Hurley Parker and Mr. Pruitt Parker and their families, of Birmingham, and her sister, Mrs. Burl Smitherman and daughter, Miss Virginia Smitherman of Centreville.

Miss Lucille Cooper is with her parents in Gadsden for the holidays.
